British Land To Help Smash Guiana Riots

Strikers Set Fires In Capital

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP) - British warships landed battle - tried troops in this scarred and scorched colonial capital today to help put down rioting against Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan's leftist regime.

British troops went ashore after four days of strikes and demonstrations had erupted into bloody street fighting. The demonstrators, civil servants, teachers, clerks and others, demand the resignation of Jagan.

The bloodshed seemed certain to set back Jagan's drive for quick independence for British Guiana, Britain's only South American colony, and his hopes for U.S. Alliance for Progress funds.

The British governor, Sir Walter Grey, broadcast repeated appeals for order and declared the violence had deferred all plans for British Guiana for years. Presumably he meant independence.

The strikers have protested that if Jagan gets his demand for independence he will turn Guiana into another Cuba.

The uprising was touched off by Jagan's austerity profreeze on vacations. But the

Famous Jesuit Will Aid Benefit

By PAUL MILLER

Few men have suffered, sacrificed and worked as much as a Jesuit who will speak in Marin the week after next.

He is Rt. Rev. Monsignor Eugene E. Fahy, a former Marin resident and the son of Mrs. William G. Fahy of 10 Park Avenue, Mill Valley. He will speak at 8 p.m. Feb. 26 at the benefit for the Holy Family Sisters at Marin Catholic High School.

Monsignor Fahy gained national prominence in the spring of 1952 when Life Magazine published an article of his tortous and harrowing experiences as prisoner of the Chinese Communist. The article "Buried Above Ground" described the priests courage and faith during the nightmarish imprisonment.
